

HOW TO TAKE CARE OF SECURITY IN A

CONNECTED WORLD

ANDREA

THINK BEFORE YOU CLICK!

Andrea fell into the trap of a fake email with an "information update" from her company.

When she clicked on the link, the cyber attackers stole her identity and gained full access to her account.

Act cautiously:

- Don't trust unexpected e-mails.
- Do not click on links or download suspicious attachments.
- Verify the sender of e-mails.
- Update your passwords regularly.

THINK BEFORE YOU SHARE!

Javier made a mistake when live streaming the office party, he shared confidential information! He did not adjust the security settings and activated geolocation. With this, the cyber attackers knew where he was.

Act cautiously:

- Be careful with the default settings.
- Avoid sharing sensitive data.
- Disable geolocation.
- Share data with the right people.

THINK BEFORE YOU CONNECT!

Maria accepts all social media connection requests. She recently shared sensitive information with her "Executive Director" in a private message. Cannot be! The data was exfiltrated because it was a fake profile.

Act cautiously:

- Do not send sensitive data on social networks and use your company's communication channels.
- If in doubt, verify the person's identity.
- Purge your social network contacts periodically.
